Summary of Legislation: This bill establishes primary service areas for community mental health centers.

Effective Date: July 1, 2002.

Explanation of State Expenditures: This bill has two provisions for the Division of Mental Health and Addiction (DMHA). The first provision, establishing exclusive geographic primary service areas for community mental health centers, must be enacted by July 1, 2002. The second provision, establishing criteria for changing a primary service area boundary, has no set time line. These two provisions require administrative rulemaking by DMHA. It is assumed that the division will be able to absorb these additional costs given current staffing and resources.

The redistricting of geographic service areas may impact the funding of individual community mental health centers. These centers receive state funding based on a formula from the Hoosier Assurance Plan. The redistricting may change the areas that centers service, thus impacting the total state dollars awarded to that center. However, this would redistribute existing funds and not affect total state funds allocated for these centers.

Explanation of State Revenues:

Explanation of Local Expenditures: This bill clarifies language regarding county appropriations for these centers. The addition of primary service areas will facilitate the calculation of county payments to community mental health centers. This will not affect the total county and local funds allocated to these centers, rather it will affect the proportion of county and local funds given to each community mental health center within a service area.

Explanation of Local Revenues:

State Agencies Affected: Family and Social Services Administration.

Local Agencies Affected: County and local governments.
